Work for the Senate.

When the Senate meets there will be a list of between 500 and 600 Postmasters appointed during the recess submitted for confirmation. In addition it is estimated that during the session of Congress the terms of at least 600 Postmasters will expire, so that the nominations for over 1,000 will come before the Senate during the next session. There are 2,335 Presidential Postmasters in this country, and at the rate observed during the past six months all the Presidential Postmasters will be changed in two years.

The Oregon Senatorship

A Washington special says an Oregon Republican, who has just arrived, says the Governor of that State has not yet determined to call an extra session of the Legislature to elect a United States Senator, and the impression in Oregon is that if the Governor is convinced that no successful objection is made to the admission of the Senator appointed by him, he will not convene the Legislature but will make an ad interim appointment.

The first session of the 49th Congress will meet on Monday, December 7th. The Senate will consist of 41 Republicans, (last session 40), 34 Democrats (last session 36), and one vacancy (Oregon). The House will have 140 Republicans, (last session 119), 182 Democrats (last session 200), 1 Greenback Labor (last session 2), 1 Fusionist and 1 vacancy. Three great questions present themselves for decision at the coming session, viz: The endorsement or repudiation of President Cleveland's course, the silver question and the tariff question.

The President says he is a Democrat and it is strange that any person should question his position. He earnestly desires the success of his party in the pending election in New York, as well as elsewhere, and any assertion to the contrary is utterly and maliciously false.

Cardinal McCloskey is very ill. The Cardinal's condition, the doctor says, is very serious, though there is no radical disease. His illness is critical and his dissolution will be slow and gradual.

Morrison on the Tariff.

Colonel William Morrison, of Illinois, was asked lately what his expectations was as to tariff legislation during the coming winter. He replied that unless the Democratic majority could be united upon a tariff reform bill, history would repeat itself, and the Democratic majority, uniting with the Republican side of the House, would defeat it, as they did in the last session. As to the silver question, Mr. Morrison said there seemed to be a general agreement that some change was called for in the present law regulating silver coinage, but what that change should be he was not prepared to say. The Illinois Democrats, he said, were as a whole, well pleased with the Administration. They realize that the Democratic party must stand or fall by Mr. Cleveland, and they proposed to stand with him and by him.

Sparks' Annual Report.

A Washington special to the New York Post says: Commissioner Sparks, of the General Land Office, in his annual report will make some sweeping recommendations as to the land-grant roads. It is said he is of the opinion that all the land-grant roads have received land in excess of the amount earned. One road, the Land Office officials maintain, has obtained 5,000,000 acres in excess of its grants. Suits will probably be commenced against several roads to recover the amount due the Government.

United States Officers Indicted.

The Arizona U. S. Grand Jury has presented indictments against J. A. Zabiskie, United States District Attorney, Royal A. Johnston, United States Surveyor General, and L. Wally, Deputy United States Surveyor, all under the Civil Service Act, for political contributions in the last campaign.

In the last six months the public debt minus cash in the treasury has been reduced $41,555,586. The reduction, however, has been effected by increasing the cash instead of reducing the debt. The interest-bearing debt, including accrued interest and interest due and unpaid, has actually increased in the last six months $261,636.

The expert accountant, Mr. Calhoun, of New York, is preparing a new system of accounts, which will be put in operation in the Navy department as soon as it is completed. Pending this, the investigation of the Navy bureau has been suspended.

The President has accepted the resignation of Wm. B. Fleming, as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of New Mexico, to take effect on the appointment and qualification of his successor.

The President has appointed Jabez L. M. Curry, of Virginia, to be Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Spain, vice Foster resigned.

It is believed in Washington that the Apache scouts have been misleading the troops; it is probable that General Crook will be superseded.

The younger men are coming to the front in New York. Both the candidates for Governor, Hill and Davenport, are 44 years of age.

Judge Jackson Temple has decided the celebrated Colton case in favor of Stanford and the other Directors of the C. P. R. R.

The Federal officials of Arizona are being investigated for political assessments, in violation of the Civil Service Act.

F. A. Tritle, Governor of Arizona, sent his resignation by mail, to the President Wednesday.

Postmaster Bedford, of Buffalo, has been suspended, but for what cause is at present unknown.

TORNADO WARNINGS PROMISED.

A Washington dispatch says phenomenal tornadoes, to the scientific study of which Lieutenant John P. Finley, of the Signal Corps, has devoted about eight years, are now so well understood as to warrant the belief that trustworthy warnings may soon be sent out to inhabitants of localities which may be threatened with disastrous visitations. Daily verifications are, in fact, being made at present, having been begun last year, continued during the tornado season, and resumed recently upon the return of Lieutenant Finley from an inspection tour in the West. The percentage of verification is already gratifying, though the predictions are as yet largely experimental, and are embodied in the daily published bulletins of the Signal Office only when the conditions favorable to the creation of a tornado are very pronounced. In such cases "severe local storms" are noted as probable. To a reporter of the Associated Press Lieut. Finley recently described the known phenomenal tornadoes and the ends toward which the present researches are directed. These storms have distinctly marked characteristics, and are by no means to be confounded with hurricanes, blizzards, cyclones or northeasters. Their tracks are never more than a few hundred yards wide and their forces are generally exhausted by the time they have traveled a course of 40 or 50 miles, though in this latter respect they are quite variable, some having been traced by their lines of devastation more than 180 miles. Their rotary motion, which is greatest towards the center, sometimes reaches the enormous rate of 2,000 miles an hour, while their forward movement—always from southwest to northeast—ordinarily does not exceed 40 or 50 miles. They are usually unaccompanied by electrical disturbances, and are believed to be uninfluenced by electrical conditions, though violent thunder storms sometimes follow them a few miles away. There is a distinct and curious relationship between a tornado and a general storm center, which is always apparent in the uniform relative positions, a tornado always occurring southeastwardly from the center of low barometric pressure, and at a distance of 1 to 600 miles. The shape of the general storm center, the direction in which its longest diameter lies, and the appearance of the upper and lower cloud-center, are minor elements in the problem out of which the weather experts hope to work a complete system of tornado warnings. The visit of a tornado is commonly between the hours of 2 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon. Its home is in the area which includes the whole of Iowa, all Missouri except the southeastern corner, and the northwestern corner of Arkansas, the northeastern part of Indian Territory, eastern Kansas, eastern Nebraska, southern Minnesota, southern Wisconsin and western Illinois. Here its season extends from April to August, inclusive. It is a frequent visitor of two or three regions. One is along a strip of the Gulf and south Atlantic, which takes in the central portion of Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina, with its termini in Mississippi and North Carolina, over which its devastations are confined to the months of January, February and March. The other includes a portion of southern and central Ohio, a large part of Pennsylvania, a small area in Maryland, a strip across New York and a corner each in Massachusetts and Connecticut, where its seasons are only during the months of August and September.

Lieutenant Finley further said that while a host of interesting scientific questions respecting the origin of tornadoes, the laws which govern them, and their relationship to other meteorological phenomena, remain to be answered, the practical question as to when and where they are likely to appear seem to be rapidly advancing towards a solution. The interests which are subject to disaster from tornadoes are alive to the importance of the work in progress. Intending purchasers of farms apply to the Signal Office for information respecting the liability of their selected locality to disaster. To such are sent records of the past, as far as they are known. Whenever Lieutenant Finley travels in pursuit of his studies, the farmers and villagers press for information. To these he says that nothing raised by the hand of man above the surface of the earth can withstand the shock of a tornado. He advises them to seek their dugouts upon the appearance of portentous signs of disaster and there await the passage of the storm. For their property, he advises insurance so that the losses of an individual may be shared by his more fortunate neighbors. The insurance companies, which last year wrote $40,000,000 in tornado policies, are eagerly awaiting the completion of a map now in process of making, which will, it is expected, greatly narrow the so-called tornado regions, and perhaps show that large portions of them have never experienced a destructive storm. Upon this map Lieutenant Finley proposes to show, from the complete records of several years and data as far as obtained for many previous years, the average number of tornadoes for each locality per annum.

The Reno Journal has entered upon its 24th volume. It is a good paper and deserving of success.—Tuscarora Times-Review.

EQUALIZATION NOTICE.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT AT a regular meeting of the Board of County Commissioners of Washoe county, Nevada, held on the 24th day of September, 1885, said Commissioners sitting as a Board of Equalization, upon complaint duly made and entered therein, caused citations to issue as follows:

—To W. B. Tordhunter, requiring him, the said W. B. Tordhunter, to be and appear before said Board on the 30th day of September, 1885, and show cause why the number of stock cattle assessed to him for the year 1885, should not be raised from 1,500 to 3,000, and the value thereof from $22,500 to $45,000. That on the 30th day of September, 1885, the consideration thereof was continued until Monday, October 5, 1885, at which time the Board proceeded to consider the matter, and no appearance being made or objections filed therein, the number of stock cattle assessed to him was raised from 1,500 to 3,000, and the value thereof, $22,500, was added to the assessed valuation of his said property, thus raising the assessed valuation of said personal property from $22,500 to $45,000.

—To George D. Winters, citing him to appear before the Board on the 30th day of September, 1885, and to show cause why the valuation of personal property assessed to him for the year 1885, should not be raised from $10,930 to $23,980. That on the 30th day of September, 1885, the consideration thereof was continued until Monday, October 5, 1885, at which time the Board proceeded to the consideration of the matter, and no appearance being made or objections filed therein, the valuation of his personal property was raised as follows, to wit: 66 head of horses from $10 per head to $18 per head, and 2,400 head of sheep returned by him was raised to 9,000 head, thus raising the assessed valuation of his sheep from $3,600 to $11,250, and a total raise of value of personal property from $6,430 to $18,000.
